QuickLogic Signs Agreement with Magenta to Expand Distribution Network to Turkiye and UAE

SAN JOSE, Calif., Jan. 14, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- QuickLogic Corporation (NASDAQ: QUIK), a developer of embedded FPGA (eFPGA) Hard IP, and ruggedized FPGAs, is pleased to announce that it recently signed a distribution agreement with Magenta Technology Limited, a critical technologies and components supplier headquartered in Ankara. This partnership will expand QuickLogic's presence across Turkiye and the UAE, reaching customers in high-demand sectors including defense, aerospace, and telecommunications.

"Partnering with Magenta allows us to bring our innovative solutions to key markets in the Middle East," said Owen Bateman, QuickLogic's vice president of worldwide sales. "Their local expertise will be invaluable in delivering our eFPGA & FPGA solutions efficiently and effectively to our key target customers and market segments in the region."

Volkan Tunarli, Magenta's, Managing Partner, noted, "QuickLogic's unique FPGA and eFPGA Hard IP solutions will be invaluable in the markets we serve, and we are very much looking forward to adding these products and capabilities to our current portfolio to enhance our ability to deliver high value to our extensive customer base."

This strategic partnership positions both companies well to drive technology leadership and innovation across Turkiye and the UAE through QuickLogic's state-of-the-art semiconductor solutions.
