RENOVA TERMINATES DISCUSSIONS WITH TPT GLOBAL TECH, INC.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 08, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Rennova Health, Inc. (OTC: RNVA), (OTC: RNVAW) (“Rennova” or the “Company”), an owner and operator of rural hospitals in Tennessee, announces that on March 5, 2021, it terminated discussions with TPT Global Tech, Inc. to merge its software and genetic testing interpretation divisions, Health Technology Solutions, Inc. (HTS) and Advanced Molecular Services Group, Inc., (AMSG) and their subsidiaries into InnovaQor.

The parties had worked for a number of months to close on an agreement that was previously announced but unfortunately could not reach final terms on a number of closing items and have agreed to immediately terminate discussions. Each party will continue independently with their own business strategy and plan.

Rennova will immediately pursue other options including, the filing of a Form 10 with the SEC to complete the separation of its software division as planned to its shareholders. Financial audits have been completed on Rennova’s software division in anticipation of closing the transaction as previously described. Rennova remains committed to creating a next generation telehealth type platform for healthcare providers and patients combining already developed Rennova assets and technology.

“Rennova is disappointed that the previously disclosed agreement with TPT Global Tech, Inc. could not be finalized successfully”, said Seamus Lagan, CEO of Rennova Health. “We believe we can quickly execute on a plan of separation of our software assets and opportunity that achieves the same outcome for our shareholders as previously intended, and build a successful healthcare software provider that meets the needs of a modern healthcare sector.”
