EAST AURORA, N.Y.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Astronics Corporation (Nasdaq: ATRO), a leading provider of advanced technologies for global aerospace, defense and other mission critical industries, announced its fourth quarter 2025 preliminary unaudited revenue was approximately $236 million to $239 million, above the Company's guidance range. At the midpoint, preliminary revenue was up approximately 14% over the prior-year period and up 12% over the trailing third quarter. Full year preliminary unaudited revenue for 2025 of approximately $860 million was up 8% over the prior year, assuming the mid-point of the fourth quarter preliminary range.

Preliminary bookings in the quarter were approximately $257 million, bringing orders for the full year to approximately $924 million.

The Company also provided preliminary revenue expectations for 2026 of $950 million to $990 million representing an increase of approximately 10% to 15% over 2025.

Peter J. Gundermann, Chairman, President and CEO, commented, "We ended the year on a strong note with double digit revenue growth over recent quarters. Given the robust level of bookings in the fourth quarter and the strength of our backlog, we expect the momentum to continue in 2026, with sales up 10% to 15% over 2025. We also expect the higher volume will positively impact our profitability and cash flow. We are looking forward to another exciting year."

The preliminary unaudited revenue result for the fourth quarter and full year 2025 presented herein are based on information available to management as of the date of this release. These preliminary unaudited results are subject to changes, that may be material, in connection with completion of the Company's standard year-end closing procedures and the completion of our independent registered public accounting firm's year-end audit.
