Accordingly, the Company has regained compliance with Listing Rule 5550(a)(2). The Company has regained compliance with Nasdaq's minimum bid price requirement, noting that this matter is now closed.

"Regaining compliance with Nasdaq's minimum bid price is an important requirement for Focus Universal," said Dr. Desheng Wang, CEO of Focus Universal Inc. ", and as we reflect on the market and growing business potential, we remain focused on creating long-term shareholder value through our fundamental research and development, which aims to address the core challenges in IoT and labor-intensive data entry. Our universal smart instrumentation platform provides a common hardware foundation that allows IoT engineers to start with 90% of the work completed, rather than from scratch. Our universal smart instrumentation software platform can replace any IoT app globally, eliminating the need for app developers to create individual apps."

Dr. Desheng Wang continued, "Furthermore, with our AI-driven SEC financial reporting software, with a single click, automatically retrieves financial data from accounting systems and generates consolidated financial statements and SEC reports in WORD, PDF, HTML, and XBRL formats -- all without human involvement and free of errors -- reducing up to 2,000 person-days of work for public companies to 20 minutes. We showcased these technologies at CES 2025 in Las Vegas.
