ABOUT MARTY

Marty Sadler is a Partner at Lucosky Brookman LLP and is a member of the Insurance Coverage and Defense group. Based in Houston, Texas, Marty specializes in insurance litigation. He specializes in first-party property insurance coverage, bad faith claims, and catastrophe litigation, handling both commercial and residential cases involving hurricane, wind, and hail losses. His expertise extends to managing litigation under various policies, such as builder's risk, boiler and machinery, commercial general liability, commercial and individual automobile, and coverage for rarities and collectibles.

Marty has adeptly handled complex loss scenarios for insurance clients, including business interruption and delay claims. His proficiency covers claims involving limitations or exclusions related to "other insurance," pollution, products-completed operations, preexisting conditions, temperature and humidity, faulty workmanship, professional liability, and latent defects.

In addition to his insurance litigation expertise, Marty has provided litigation services in general litigation, product liability, personal injury, wrongful death, and corporate and commercial law matters. He has also been retained as an expert witness on attorneys' fees, claim handling, and coverage issues in numerous cases in Texas state courts and the federal district courts in Texas, which includes written reports, deposition testimony, and consulting. Additionally, Marty has been retained as an appraiser or arbitrator in multiple large commercial property insurance disputes.

Marty holds a J.D. from Baylor University School of Law with a concentration in Civil Litigation, as well as an M.A. and B.A. in Communication Studies from Baylor University and the University of Utah respectively.

INSURANCE COVERAGE AND DEFENSE

The Insurance Coverage & Defense Practice Group at Lucosky Brookman LLP provides legal advice and representation to insurance companies and self-insured corporations on insurance matters in New York and New Jersey. Our attorneys have successfully litigated innumerable insurance and defense claims ranging from complex high-profile litigation to typical insurance coverage and casualty defense matters, including general liability, products liability, toxic tort and asbestos litigation, construction and labor law cases, transportation, and primary and excess coverage counseling and litigation.

Our New York and New Jersey insurance lawyers are widely recognized for providing exceptional legal advice and representation. We have built a reputation for providing uncompromising litigation services for some of the leading insurance companies. The head of our Insurance Defense Practice Group has more than 30 years of legal experience.

Our attorneys have the skill and experience to effectively negotiate settlements, handle arbitration, or bring a case to trial. Our lawyers assist our clients in identifying and resolving coverage disputes as quickly and efficiently as possible, and achieve claim settlements cost-effectively. We fully recognize that our clients are our partners, and we execute each client's strategy on each individual case.
