Justin Anderson, CEO of PreCheck Health Services, Inc. is Featured in a New Interview at SmallCapVoice.com

AUSTIN, Texas, March 18, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- SmallCapVoice.com Inc. and PreCheck Health Services, Inc. (OTC: HLTY) (the "Company"), a provider of medical screening devices which provide data to assist physicians in preventing and treating chronic diseases, announced today that Justin Anderson is featured in an exclusive new audio interview at SmallCapVoice.com.

The interview can be heard at: <https://www.smallcapvoice.com/interview-precheck-health-hlty/>.

Justin Anderson, CEO of PreCheck Health Services, Inc., called into SmallCapVoice.com, Inc. to go over his efforts since taking the helm as CEO in December 2019, his company's recent news with PreCheck as the distributor of Co-Diagnostics' (Nasdaq: CODX) Logix Smart™ COVID-19 test in Panama, Ecuador and Russia, and what is next for his Company in the global response to coronavirus.

In addition, Anderson touched on the other markets and revenue streams for HLTY. With the purchase of JAS Consulting, a provider of healthcare management, billing, and coding services, and PreCheck's PC8B, an FDA-cleared and patented medical screening device, the company is evolving into a vertically integrated player in the healthcare markets. PreCheck's PC8B can screen for multiple risk factors underlying certain chronic ailments, such as insulin resistance, cardiovascular disease (including PAD), endothelia dysfunction, digestive problems, and fatigue. The PC8B's software helps the physician recommend a treatment plan for the patient.

In the interview Anderson stated, "I feel our job at PreCheck, as it stands today, is to help meet the demand of the pandemic. Co-Diagnostics, who we are dealing with every day, can produce up to 50,000 of their testing kits a day. Now I know that is not enough to take care of the whole world, but it is enough to really help with this pandemic that we're facing right now."
