Huntington Announces 88 New ATMs Throughout West Virginia at Go Mart Stores

Agreement quadruples the number of non-branch Huntington ATMs in the state and underscores Huntington's commitment to West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Huntington Bank customers will be able to access their accounts with no fee by using ATMs at 88 Go Mart locations throughout West Virginia, significantly increasing convenience for West Virginia customers, the bank announced today. The new ATMs are in addition to the 31 Huntington branches and 53 Huntington ATMs already in the state.

"Huntington is committed to making it easier for our West Virginia customers to have access to their accounts," said Huntington Bank West Virginia President Andrew Paterno. "Go Mart is a well-respected retailer and the No. 1 gas provider in the state. Our customers will be able to use these ATMs at no charge, giving them added convenience as they stop at a Go Mart for groceries and gas."

One Point Financial (OPF), an ATM operator based in Atlanta, Ga., finalized an agreement with Huntington to brand the ATMs.

"One Point Financial strives to develop convenient, cost-effective delivery channels for ATM placements," said David Bagley, chief executive officer, One Point Financial. "Strategies that deliver an inviting customer experience are imperative for driving usage at the ATM and allowing the financial institution to fully maximize its brand. One Point Financial's model incorporates customer-centric goals as well as budget objectives into a comprehensive plan that enables financial institutions to grow their retail delivery channel in a lean and challenging economy."

The first ATMs will be placed in Go Marts beginning in early March. All 88 are expected to be placed by mid-March.
