Hudson Valley Bank Selects Fiserv

- Integrated solution set to increase overall efficiency and help manage organic growth and acquisitions
- Fiserv technology will enable the Bank to continue to offer cutting edge products and exceptional service
- Robust commercial banking functionality to give bank customers improved lending processes and more advanced servicing

BROOKFIELD, Wis.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Fiserv, Inc. (NASDAQ: FISV), the leading global provider of financial services technology solutions, announced today that Yonkers, N.Y. based Hudson Valley Bank has selected an integrated banking solution set based on its Signature(TM) bank platform. A regional community bank focused on the financial needs of local businesses and professional services firms, Hudson Valley Bank has experienced significant growth over the past few years. The bank sought a technology upgrade to help increase overall efficiency, develop sustainable process improvements and manage growth.

"In this digital age, our customers expect us to offer the latest technology and delivery systems to help them grow their businesses. We are a much larger bank than we were just five years ago, and we need integrated systems that operate efficiently and cost-effectively to successfully compete in our marketplace," said James J. Landy, President and Chief Executive Officer, Hudson Valley Bank. "Upgrading our core and ancillary systems with Fiserv will position Hudson Valley at the forefront of new technology, as we offer our customers cutting edge products and the exceptional service they have come to expect from us. The focus of these investments is to enable us to better serve our customers, meet their current and future needs and position the bank for continued growth and success."

Fiserv provides a complete commercial banking solution to help Hudson Valley Bank and other organizations like it to maximize their assets, provide greater insight into their customer base and increase sales while managing risk and fraud.

"To help us provide compelling products and services, it was vital that we find the right technology partner," said Howard Bruck, Chief Information Officer, Hudson Valley Bank. "We chose Fiserv after a thoughtful and detailed selection process involving representatives from all areas of the bank. We are confident that we made the right choice of product and partner."

The Signature bank platform and other Fiserv solutions can help commercial banking customers achieve a more efficient and customer-centric lending process. In addition, tools provided by Aperio<sup>TM</sup> give bank representatives a full view of a customer's relationship with the bank in one location, which helps improve servicing and understanding of customer needs.

"Fiserv is committed to helping Hudson Valley Bank achieve ongoing success, and offer clients innovative offerings and superior service levels. Our integrated solutions will help drive efficiencies, facilitate customer service and scale with the bank's growth strategy," said Dave Santi, division president, Bank Solutions, Fiserv. "We will help them take full advantage of all the Fiserv solutions and we look forward to a long term partnership."
