MEDIA ALERT: Equinix to Speak at ITW 2017

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., May 11, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Equinix, Inc. (Nasdaq: EQIX), the global interconnection and data center company, today announced that representatives from the company will be speaking at the upcoming ITW 2017 conference, taking place May 14-17 in Chicago. ITW is the world's largest meeting for the global wholesale telecommunications community. At the event, Equinix will be hosting a panel of customers and partners as they discuss how to innovate at the edge with Equinix. The panel will be moderated by Equinix vice president of global solutions enablement, Ryan Mallory.

Event Details:

Executive Roundtable: Solving for Digital Disruption through Interconnection
Service consumers and service providers are experiencing the shift to digital and the disruption it brings to their business. This is requiring firms to implement new commerce and collaboration models to engage customers, partners and employees. Also required are new connectivity and data models for cloud, content analytics, IoT and digital payments. To thrive in this new digital environment, traditional organizations are transforming both their business and IT delivery architectures.

This panel will showcase how service providers and service consumers meet at the Digital Edge to innovate for the future, as well as how Platform Equinix enables this next generation digital environment. Attendees will discover:

- Digital disruption's impact on service providers and enterprises
- How digital is forcing business and IT to transform
- What service providers are doing to help businesses re-architect for the Digital Edge
- How service providers and service consumers are using interconnection to solve for digital
- How Equinix customers are incorporating an Interconnection Oriented Architecture™ (IOA™) to achieve their business goals
