Global Telesat and EVERYWHERE Communications Announce Partnership to Expand Satellite and IoT Connectivity for European Enterprises and Government Agencies

New Agreement Will Enhance Connectivity for Mobile Workforces Across Humanitarian, Utility, and Government Sectors

COCONUT GROVE, Fla. and ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 10, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- NextPlat Corp (NASDAQ: NXPL, NXPLW) ("NextPlat" or the "Company"), a global e-Commerce provider, today announced that its subsidiary, Global Telesat Communications Ltd ("GTC") has partnered with EVERYWHERE Communications, Inc. ("EVERYWHERE"), a leader in satellite and cellular connectivity and duty of care solutions, to expand mission-critical communications capabilities for enterprise, government, and humanitarian organizations across Europe.

This partnership establishes GTC as EVERYWHERE's preferred connectivity solutions provider in the UK and EU, further strengthening their long-standing relationship. By expanding on their collaboration, the companies will enhance real-time global communications, situational awareness, and duty-of-care services for mobile workforces operating in remote and often challenging environments.

Together, GTC and EVERYWHERE are empowering global enterprises, NGOs, and government agencies to enhance workforce safety, optimize operations, and maintain seamless connectivity. Moving forward, they will expand their joint offerings to include advanced satellite hotspots, IoT connectivity solutions, and integrated communications platforms, delivering reliable, intelligent, and secure connectivity for organizations with mission-critical operations.

"Today's agreement represents an exciting expansion of our already strong and successful relationship with EVERYWHERE. It is an honor to be recognized as EVERYWHERE's preferred partner in the UK and EU markets, and we are looking forward to continuing to build upon the significant success and momentum we are seeing from enterprise customers in our markets," said David Phipps, President of NextPlat and CEO of Global Operations, and Managing Director of Global Telesat Communications.

Patrick Shay, CEO of EVERYWHERE Communications, emphasized the shared vision and mission behind the partnership. "At EVERYWHERE, our mission is to provide seamless global connectivity and enhance the safety of teams operating in remote and often unpredictable environments. Our partnership with GTC represents a powerful alignment of expertise and purpose—bringing together advanced satellite and cellular communications with GTC's deep market knowledge and proven capabilities in the European connectivity landscape. Together, we are enabling enterprises, NGOs, and government agencies to adapt to evolving connectivity challenges, ensuring their most important asset, their people, stay connected and protected—everywhere."
