Why now?

The Pandemic made remote work mainstream

RemoteMore was established in 2018. Remote work was a small but fast-growing trend back then. We are perfectly positioned to capture the massive shift when the Covid pandemic started in 2020.

Remote work is here to stay also after the Pandemic

Within tech hiring, remote is widely adopted. 40%+ of the developer job openings are for remote positions with strong potential to grow in the future.
