Having a shared focus on paperless payroll compliance, Citi Prepaid Services delivers custom electronic payment programs that help organizations reduce costs, drive optimization and increase program effectiveness. As part of a standing relationship, Citi Prepaid has leveraged the TALX suite of automated payroll products to provide its Payroll clients a completely paperless solution. With the expanded relationship, TALX customers will experience the same benefits, with prepaid service solutions offered through TALX.

"TALX is pleased to expand our relationship with Citi Prepaid, a clear leader in the paycard space," commented Dann Adams, President, TALX. "In developing this alliance, we're armed to meet our clients' requests for a completely paperless payroll process, and to continue to deliver the superior levels of customer service they've come to expect."

As a leader in Paperless Pay and Compliance, TALX focuses on replacing slow, paper-based, manual processes with automated self-service solutions, so that clients can deliver more efficient services to their employees. Helping organizations cut costs and streamline their practices, the TALX solution allows employees to review and update their payroll information – including paystubs, state and federal W-4s and direct deposit options – from the web or phone. With direct deposit paycard integration, companies can offer their employees flexibility while completely removing paper, and its related administrative and distribution costs, from the process.

"By working with TALX, Citi Prepaid has helped our clients streamline operations and offers employees a better payday experience," said John Kohari, Citi's Global Head for Wholesale Cards. "We're honored to continue to build our relationship, and to help TALX clients improve their operations, eliminating paper from payroll at every step of the process using a truly optimized solution."

Representatives from TALX will be available to discuss Paperless Pay services during the upcoming American Payroll Association \(APA\) 29th Annual Congress on Tuesday, May 24 through Friday, May 27, 2011 in Salt Lake City, Utah. Attendees may visit TALX at booth No. 1111 to learn more or participate in one of three educational workshops hosted by TALX subject matter experts.
