Inpixon Joins the VMware Technology Alliance Partner Program

PALO ALTO, Calif., March 07, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Inpixon (Nasdaq: INPX), a leading indoor positioning and data analytics company, today announced it has joined the VMware Technology Alliance Partner (TAP) program as a Standard level partner. Members of the TAP program collaborate with VMware to deliver innovative solutions for virtualization and cloud computing. The diversity and depth of the TAP ecosystem provides customers with the flexibility to choose a partner with the right expertise to satisfy their unique needs.

With thousands of members worldwide, the VMware TAP program includes technology partners with the shared goal to bring the best expertise and business solutions for each unique customer environment.

"We welcome Inpixon as a valued member of the VMware TAP program," said Kristen Edwards, director, Technology Alliance Partner Program, VMware. "This membership means customers can take full advantage of a streamlined cloud infrastructure experience. By joining the program, Inpixon is working with VMware to develop technologies that can transform customers' environments."

"Inpixon's VMware integration helps organizations increase their mobile, BYOD and IoT security capabilities," said Nadir Ali, Inpixon CEO. "Inpixon's IPA AirWatch Connector enables administrators to enforce mobile device security policies based on a device's specific location in the building." A video demonstrating deactivation of phone features in a no-phone zone is available at https://youtu.be/BV_t7eTHr3A.

Inpixon's product information, collateral and other assets are listed within the online VMware Solution Exchange at <https://marketplace.vmware.com/vsx/solutions/inpixon-indoor-positioning-analytics-ipa-airwatch-connector-2-0?ref=search>. The VMware Solution Exchange is an online marketplace where VMware partners and developers can publish rich marketing content and downloadable software for our customers.
