Previously the Company reported an initial deposit placed by its distributor in Indonesia. Last week the Company fulfilled the balance of that order.

The Company's distributor secured a contract with the Indonesian National Police force following successful BolaWrap demonstrations across the country. The Company provided the Indonesian National Police force with custom BolaWrap devices with the police force's logo and matching uniform colors.

"Mr. Pujiyanto's statement reflects their understanding of the value of our BolaWrap remote restraint device as the only tool for law enforcement that is not designed to cause pain when used on noncompliant subjects," said Tom Smith, President of Wrap Technologies. "After visiting and demonstrating in Indonesia last year, it is great to see their initial order come to fruition as the interest from both the domestic and international communities continues to grow."
