

ANIMAL WELFARE

SAIL  SUSTAIN

NCLH NORWEGIAN CRUISE LINE HOLDINGS LTD.

Norwegian Cruise Line Holdings is committed to furthering the legal, ethical and humane treatment of animals across our operations and our supply chain. Animal health and welfare is important to us, and we encourage suppliers to implement procedures to prevent the mistreatment of animals.

Our current goals are outlined below:

CHICKEN

We are currently in the process of phasing in an updated purchasing standard for chicken using standards from the Global Animal Partnership (GAP). These standards define humane treatment for chicken housing and processing. By 2024, we plan to have all the chicken we purchase in the U.S. and Canada sourced from suppliers who meet GAP standards.

EGGS

In 2015, we committed that by the end of 2025, all the eggs we purchase from U.S.-based suppliers will be from those who use cage-free environments for their hens. Cage-free confinement systems are considered to be more humane for laying hens as they allow greater freedom of movement and space to express more natural behaviors than conventional methods.

PORK

We have committed to purchase 100% of our pork purchases from suppliers that do not use gestation crates by 2025.

To reach these benchmarks, NCLH is working with our vendors to increase availability of cage-free eggs, GAP-certified chicken, and gestation crate-free pork. In the event the supply needed to reach our benchmarks is not available, NCLH will continue to work with the supply base to understand strategies and plans to continue expanding on product availability to meet demand. If there is a known gap in the supply against stated benchmarks and actual percentages targeted, information will be provided accordingly.
