Propanc Biopharma, Inc. Pursues Strategic Acquisition Plan Targeting Digital Asset Treasury (DAT) Companies Trading Below Market Cap to Net Asset Value (MNAV)

MELBOURNE, Australia, Nov. 04, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Propanc Biopharma, Inc. (Nasdaq: PPCB) ("Propanc" or the "Company"), a biopharmaceutical company developing new treatments for patients suffering from recurrent and metastatic cancer, today announced a strategic initiative to pursue the acquisition of Digital Asset Treasury (DAT) companies that are currently trading below their Market Cap to Net Asset Value (MNAV).

The Company's management believes that acquiring undervalued DAT entities presents a compelling opportunity to strengthen Propanc's balance sheet, diversify its asset base, and create long-term shareholder value. These DAT companies typically hold substantial reserves of leading digital assets such as Bitcoin (BTC) and Ethereum (ETH) on their balance sheets.

According to public filings and data compiled by CoinMarketCap.com, the total value held by Bitcoin Treasury companies currently stands at approximately $76.9 billion, while Ethereum-based DATs collectively hold about $17.6 billion in digital assets. Many of these entities are trading at significant discounts to their net asset values, creating a unique window for opportunistic acquisitions.

"We see this as a strategic diversification initiative that can unlock value for Propanc shareholders," said James Nathanielsz, CEO of Propanc Biopharma. "By identifying DAT companies trading below their intrinsic value, we aim to leverage our public company platform to build a diversified digital asset portfolio while continuing to advance our innovative oncology pipeline."

Propanc's board and executive team are currently evaluating potential acquisition targets and developing due diligence frameworks to assess balance sheet strength, digital asset holdings, and operational synergies.

The Company intends to update shareholders as developments progress and qualified targets are identified.
