ResMed Completes Acquisition of Inova Labs

ResMed expands its care offerings and solutions for people suffering from chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, or COPD.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 4, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- ResMed (NYSE:RMD), the world's leading innovator in sleep-disordered breathing and respiratory care, today announced it completed the acquisition of Inova Labs Inc., a privately-held medical device company that develops and commercializes innovative oxygen therapy products.

"We are excited to complete this acquisition, which expands our offerings and solutions to address a global COPD epidemic impacting tens of millions of people," said Mick Farrell, CEO of ResMed. "This acquisition is an important step to reach our goal of improving 20 million lives by 2020."

ResMed's current respiratory care offerings include world-leading patient interface products, the AirCurve™ 10 series of cloud-connected non-invasive ventilators, the Stellar™ series of non-invasive ventilators, and the flagship Astral™ series. The Astral is ResMed's award-winning lightweight non-invasive life support platform, with internal and external batteries that provide up to 24 hours of freedom for patients.

With the acquisition of Austin, Texas-based Inova Labs, ResMed's respiratory care portfolio now encompasses both innovative portable oxygen concentrators and stationary options for the home. Key products include:

- LifeChoice Activox – lightweight, portable oxygen concentrators that lead the industry in offering extended battery life for freedom and mobility.
- Activox DUO2 – the industry's first fully integrated stationary and portable oxygen concentrator system.

The transaction's financial terms were not disclosed.
