HERNDON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- BlackSky Technology Inc. (NYSE: BKSY) was named on the Deloitte Technology Fast 500™, a ranking of the 500 fastest-growing technology, media, telecommunications, life sciences, fintech, and energy tech companies in North America, now in its 29th year. BlackSky has grown revenue 377% from fiscal year 2019 until 2022.

“The world needs real-time space-based intelligence now more than ever and BlackSky is making that a reality,” said Brian E. O’Toole, BlackSky CEO. “BlackSky has built the world’s most advanced space-based intelligence platform and is helping governments worldwide gain foresight into critical matters that affect their national security and economy from space.”

BlackSky delivers thousands of high-resolution images and analytics every month to organizations worldwide, delivering transparency and insights into border crossings, nuclear and port facilities, and other economically critical infrastructure at scale.

“BlackSky helps nations quickly build sovereign space capabilities and gain immediate access to on-demand, real-time high-frequency imagery and analytics services,” said O’Toole.

BlackSky remains on track to achieve positive Adjusted EBITDA in Q4 2023. This is the result of continued revenue growth, high incremental margins from imagery and analytic services and continued responsible cost management.
