Telephonics Awarded Tactical Communications Contract from the Department of Homeland Security

FARMINGDALE, N.Y., June 24, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Telephonics Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of Griffon Corporation (NYSE: GFF), announced today that it has been awarded an Indefinite Delivery/Indefinite Quantity (IDIQ) contract as a hardware supplier Technical Category 1 from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to support the Tactical Communications Equipment and Services II program (TacCom II).

Through this award, Telephonics will be providing a full-array of communications products as well as ancillary support equipment, training, and life-cycle support.

The TacCom II program is designed to provide federal agencies, including DHS and their partner agencies, the latest tools and technologies that provide improved communications across all federal agencies regardless of affiliation for the seamless execution of missions such as border patrol, responding to natural disasters, and conducting law enforcement operations.

"Telephonics is committed to delivering the superior communications capabilities required to meet the needs of this program," said Kevin McSweeney, Telephonics President. "By leveraging our extensive experience in designing and developing highly reliable and secure communications products, Telephonics will be able to provide DHS the tactical systems needed for the successful execution of national-security missions."
