DALLAS--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Texas Pacific Land Corporation (NYSE: TPL) (the "Company" or "TPL") today announced that, effective May 31, 2021, Chief Financial Officer Robert Packer will retire after a distinguished 10-year career with the Company. Chris Steddum, TPL's current Vice President, Finance and Investor Relations, will succeed Mr. Packer as the Company's Chief Financial Officer. The Company has also appointed Stephanie Buffington, TPL's current Vice President, Accounting, to the newly created role of Chief Accounting Officer. Both appointments will become effective on June 1, 2021. Mr. Packer will serve as an advisor to the Company through the end of the year to ensure a smooth transition.

"On behalf of all of us at TPL, I want to thank Robert for his exceptional service to our Company over the last decade," said Tyler Glover, TPL's Chief Executive Officer. "In his role, Robert has been essential in helping TPL achieve many transformational growth milestones, from the formation of our Texas Pacific Water Resources business in 2017 to TPL's recent reorganization from a business trust structure to a Delaware corporation. He has played an integral role across all facets of our evolving business and displayed an unwavering commitment to TPL's success. We are all deeply grateful for Robert's contributions and wish him nothing but the best as he enjoys his well-deserved retirement."

"It has been my honor and pleasure to be a part of the TPL story over the past ten years, and I am tremendously proud of all that we have accomplished – previously as Texas Pacific Land Trust and now as Texas Pacific Land Corporation," said Mr. Packer. "While I always envisioned retiring at this time in my life to spend more time with my family, the completion of our reorganization provided a natural opportunity to hand the reins over to Chris and Stephanie, two impressive individuals who have the skill, passion and financial expertise to protect TPL's storied legacy and take TPL to new heights. I will stay on the next several months to ensure a smooth transition, but I am confident in their ability to continue TPL's strong success."

Chris Steddum brings extensive corporate and sell-side experience within the oil and gas industry.
