ExxonMobil and Employees Donate Nearly $1.3 Million to Okla. Colleges and Universities

- Sixteen educational institutions in Oklahoma receive funds from a program that matches employee donations
- XTO Energy employees in Oklahoma participated in the matching program
- More than $5.6 million donated to Oklahoma post-secondary institutions since 2008

OKLAHOMA CITY--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- ExxonMobil and its employees, including those from XTO Energy, donated nearly $1.3 million to higher education institutions across Oklahoma as part of the ExxonMobil Foundation's 2012 Educational Matching Gift Program.

ExxonMobil Foundation contributed unrestricted grants of $968,778 to match donations of $324,945 from employees, retirees, directors and surviving spouses. This investment includes gifts from employees of XTO Energy Inc., an ExxonMobil subsidiary. XTO Energy has offices in Oklahoma City, Ardmore, McAlester, Elk City, Ringwood, and Tyrone and more than 200 employees in the state of Oklahoma.

Over the past five years, ExxonMobil and its employees have given more than $5.6 million to universities and colleges in Oklahoma.

The program matches donor pledges 3:1 up to $7,500 to qualified colleges and universities in the United States along with the American Indian College Fund, Hispanic Scholarship Fund and the United Negro College Fund. Since the Educational Matching Gift Program began in 1962, more than $500 million has been donated to institutions of higher learning.

"ExxonMobil employees have a history of giving back through both their volunteerism and philanthropy. The corporation and foundation share that philosophy and are proud to join them in their generous support," said Suzanne McCarron, president of the ExxonMobil Foundation.

Although grants are unrestricted, recipients are encouraged to designate a portion to math and science programs supporting student engagement.

Nationwide, 871 institutions received $40.2 million through the 2012 Educational Matching Gift Program.

In addition to the Educational Matching Gift Program, ExxonMobil and the ExxonMobil Foundation support and develop programs that encourage students, particularly women and minorities, toward careers in math and science fields, as well as teacher training initiatives.
