

April 30, 2008

Mirion Technologies Expands Management Team with Jack Pacheco as Chief Financial Officer

SAN FRANCISCO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--

Mirion Technologies, the leading global provider of detection, measurement, and analysis solutions in the radiation protection industry, today announced the appointment of Jack Pacheco as Chief Financial Officer.

"We are extremely pleased to announce Jack's appointment as our new CFO," said Thomas Logan, Chief Executive Officer of Mirion Technologies. "His breadth and depth of experience in global technology manufacturing will be a tremendous asset to our company. I look forward to working with him in his new role."

"The energy and passion for excellence at Mirion Technologies was a key motivator in my decision to join. I look forward to being a contributor on this dynamic team as we continue to build a valuable enterprise," stated Mr. Pacheco.

Prior to joining Mirion, Mr. Pacheco served as Chief Financial Officer of Smart Modular Technologies (NASDAQ:SMOD), a leading independent manufacturer of memory modules, TFT LCD Displays and Embedded Computers. Mr. Pacheco was also responsible for worldwide finance, tax, treasury and risk management activities. Mr. Pacheco formerly served as Chief Financial Officer for Ignis Optics, Inc. an optical components startup acquired by Brookham Technology. He holds an MBA from Golden Gate University and a BS in Business Administration from Washington State University.

ABOUT MIRION TECHNOLOGIES

Mirion Technologies is one of the world leaders in radiation detection, measuring and monitoring. With over 740 employees worldwide, Mirion has 14 production facilities in Europe, Asia, and North America. Mirion Technologies is headquartered in the San Francisco Bay area and is a portfolio company of American Capital (NASDAQ:ACAS).

Source: Mirion Technologies