Providers Praise MTBC iPad EHR for Increasing Productivity and Optimizing Practices

SOMERSET, N.J., Dec. 17, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- MTBC (NASDAQ: MTBC), a leading provider of fully-integrated, cloud-based healthcare IT solutions, today announced the successful implementation and official launch of its iPad EHR app, iEHR, modeled after its highly ranked WebEHR.

iEHR is the newest addition to MTBC's robust mHealth suite, which healthcare providers have already embraced as an invaluable tool for their practices. Providers throughout the country have also leveraged MTBC mHealth tools to electronically write prescriptions, submit claims, securely communicate, check-in patients, and capture chart dictations. Building on MTBC's iRX, iCheckIn, iPHR, iBill and iDictate apps, the new iEHR app creates a comprehensive mobile experience that is fully integrated with MTBC's web-based practice management, EHR, and revenue cycle management solution.

iEHR has been quickly embraced by WebEHR users such as Dr. Davisson Edmond of Family Health and Wellness Center in Oxford, Alabama, who are seeking to expand their utilization to the mobile environment. According to Dr. Edmond, who has been using the pre-launch version of the iEHR, "MTBC's iPad EHR is great!" He added, " I use it all the time and so does my staff. It saves time, is convenient, and definitely increases our productivity."

"We are pleased to add iEHR to our comprehensive suite of mHealth and web-based solutions," said MTBC President, Stephen Snyder. He added, "Our proprietary solutions help providers streamline practice workflows, while reducing expenses and increasing revenues – iEHR now extends these benefits to the mobile environment."

Providers can access their schedule, view patient eligibility, create charts, e-prescribe, create a claim and do much more on the iEHR. To schedule a demo or for further details, providers may contact MTBC's sales team at sales@mtbc.com or visit http://www.mtbc.com/mtbc-iehr.aspx.
