MicroVision Receives Nasdaq Global Market Listing Deficiency Notice

REDMOND, Wash.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- MicroVision, Inc. (NASDAQ:MVIS) announced today that it received a notice on December 17, 2013 from The Nasdaq Stock Market advising the company that for 30 consecutive business days preceding the date of the notice the company was not in compliance with the $50,000,000 minimum market value of listed securities required for continued listing on The Nasdaq Global Market pursuant to Nasdaq's listing requirements. In accordance with Nasdaq's listing rules, the company has 180 calendar days, or until June 16, 2014, to regain compliance with this requirement. This notification is simply a notice of deficiency, not of imminent delisting, and has no current effect on the listing or trading of MicroVision's common stock on The Nasdaq Global Market.

During the 180-day compliance period, MicroVision can regain compliance if the market value of its listed securities closes at $50,000,000 or more for a minimum of 10 consecutive business days. The company could also regain compliance with Nasdaq's continued listing requirements by reporting stockholders' equity of $10 million or more. If the company does not regain compliance by June 16, 2014, Nasdaq will notify the company that its securities are subject to delisting.

The company's key objectives are to secure customer commitments under the company's Image by PicoP® licensing business model, to strengthen its supply chain to enable customers to bring products to market and to aggressively manage cash used in operations. The company believes the best way to regain compliance is to successfully execute on its strategy.
