Form 8937, Line 14

On May 12, 2016, Penn Virginia and certain of its U.S. subsidiaries (together, the “Plan Debtors”) filed voluntary petitions for relief under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, Richmond Division, (the “Bankruptcy Court”). On June 24, 2016, Penn Virginia filed its Joint Plan of Reorganization and Disclosure Statement (the “Bankruptcy Plan”). On September 12, 2016, the Plan Debtors satisfied the conditions of the Bankruptcy Plan and the Bankruptcy Plan became effective. Unless otherwise described herein, capitalized terms are defined as used in the Bankruptcy Plan.

On September 12, 2016, the Plan Debtors exchanged 6,069,074 shares of New Penn Virginia Common Stock for the cancellation and forgiveness of notes (the “Allowed Note Claim”) and certain general unsecured claims (the “Allowed General Unsecured Claim”). Concurrently, all of the Old Penn Virginia Stock was cancelled and extinguished and the holders of the Old Penn Virginia Stock received no consideration in respect to their equity interests in Penn Virginia. The events that occurred on September 12, 2016 pursuant to the Bankruptcy Plan are cumulatively referred to herein as the “Transaction”.

Treatment of Holders of Notes and Certain General Unsecured Claims

On September 12, 2016, pursuant to the Bankruptcy Plan, the noteholders and certain general unsecured claimholders received in full and final satisfaction, settlement, release and discharge of, and in exchange for their claims, an aggregate of 6,069,074 shares of New Penn Virginia Common Stock in full satisfaction of their notes and such claims. On September 13, 2016, the company made a distribution on the Class 5 Note Claims. It should be noted that the actual trading value of New Penn Virginia Common Stock distributed to the noteholders and certain general unsecured claimholders in the Transaction may differ from the value assigned to the stock pursuant to the Bankruptcy Plan. Holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claim that received New Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Transaction should consult their tax advisors to determine the appropriate value of New Penn Virginia Common Stock and the tax consequences of the receipt of such stock to the holder.

Holders of Old Penn Virginia Stock

On September 12, 2016, pursuant to the Bankruptcy Plan, all of the Old Penn Virginia Stock was cancelled and extinguished. Holders of Old Penn Virginia Stock did not receive any distribution in respect of their Old Penn Virginia Stock held on September 12, 2016.

Form 8937, Line 15

Effect on Basis to Noteholders and Certain General Unsecured Claimholders

As a result of the Transaction, each holder of a note or certain general unsecured claim exchanged its note or general unsecured claim for New Penn Virginia Common Stock. The effect on each creditor will depend upon whether its claim is represented by a "security" for purposes of the reorganization provisions of the Tax Code. Creditors should consult their own tax advisors as to whether their claims are represented by securities.

If a U.S. holder's Allowed Note Claim or Allowed General Unsecured Claim is not a security for U.S. federal income tax purposes, such U.S. holder will be treated as exchanging such Claim for New Common Stock, in a taxable exchange under section 1001 of the Tax Code. Accordingly, each U.S. holder of such Claim should recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between (1) the fair market value of New Common Stock received in exchange for the Claim; and (2) such U.S. holder's adjusted basis, if any, in such Claim. The character of such gain or loss as capital gain or loss or as ordinary income or loss will be determined by a number of factors, including the tax status of the U.S. holder, the nature of the Claim in such U.S. holder's hands, whether the Claim was purchased at a discount, and whether and to what extent the U.S. holder previously has claimed a bad debt deduction with respect to its Claim. A U.S. holder's tax basis in any New Common Stock received should equal the fair market value of such New Common Stock as of the date such New Common Stock is distributed to the holder. A U.S. holder's holding period for the New Common Stock received should begin on the day following the Effective Date.

If a U.S. holder's Allowed Note Claim or Allowed General Unsecured Claim is treated as a security for U.S. federal income tax purposes, the exchange of such Claim for New Common Stock would be treated as an exchange of securities pursuant to a tax-free reorganization to which Reorganized Penn Virginia is a party under the reorganization provisions of the Tax Code (a "Reorganization") and a U.S. holder should not recognize loss with respect to the exchange and should not recognize gain (subject to "Accrued Interest," as discussed in Article XIII.C.2 of the Disclosure Statement). Such U.S. holder's total combined tax basis in its New Common Stock received should equal the U.S. holder's tax basis in the Allowed Note Claim or Allowed General Unsecured Claim surrendered therefor increased by gain or other income, if any, recognized by such U.S. holder in the transaction (subject to Article XIII.C.2 of the Disclosure Statement). A U.S. holder's holding period for its interest in the New Common Stock should include the holding period for the Allowed Note Claim or Allowed General Unsecured Claim surrendered therefor.

To the extent any portion of a U.S. Holder's recovery is allocable to interest on the note or general unsecured claim that has not previously been reported as income by the holder, such portion would be treated as interest income to such U.S. Holder. The tax basis of any New Penn Virginia Common Stock received under the Bankruptcy Plan by a U.S. Holder in exchange for interest would equal the fair market value of the New Penn Virginia Common Stock received by the U.S. Holder. The holding period for any such New Penn Virginia Common Stock received under the Bankruptcy Plan by such a U.S. Holder generally would begin on the day following the day of receipt.

Holders of notes or certain general unsecured claims should consult their tax advisors to determine the tax consequences of the Transaction to them.

Effect on Basis to Holders of Old Penn Virginia Stock

U.S. Holders of Old Penn Virginia Stock as of September 12, 2016 were not issued New Penn Virginia Common Stock in respect of their Old Penn Virginia Stock and, therefore, will not have any tax basis in such New Penn Virginia Common Stock. A U.S. Holder of Old Penn Virginia Stock may be eligible for a worthless securities deduction pursuant to Section 165 of the Tax Code. The rules governing the character, timing, and amount of bad debt or worthless securities deductions place considerable emphasis on the facts and circumstances of the U.S. Holder, the obligor, and the instrument with respect to which a deduction is claimed. U.S. Holders of Old Penn Virginia Stock, therefore, are urged to consult their tax advisors with respect to their ability to take such a deduction.

Form 8937, Line 16

Holders of Notes and Certain General Unsecured Claims

Based on the Plan Distributable Value of $241.1 million as set forth in the Bankruptcy Plan, the expected value of the New Penn Virginia Common Stock on September 12, 2016 was $9.41 per share = $141.1 million/14,992,018 shares. On September 13, 2016, the Company distributed 1,652,690 shares of new common stock to holders of $300,000,000 of the CUSIP No. 707882AC0 Class 5 Note Claims, in a ratio of 5.508967 shares per $1,000 in principal amount of debentures. Also on September 13, 2016, the Company distributed 4,283,285 shares of new common stock to holders of $775,000,000 of the CUSIP No. 707882AE6 Class 5 Note Claims, in a ratio of 5.526819 shares per $1,000 in principal amount of debentures. It should be noted that the actual trading value of New Penn Virginia Common Stock distributed to holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claim and noteholders in the Transaction may differ from the value assigned to the stock pursuant to the Bankruptcy Plan. Holders of Allowed General Unsecured Claim and noteholders that received New Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Transaction should consult their tax advisors to determine the tax consequences of the receipt of such stock to the holder.

Old Penn Virginia Equity Holders

U.S. Holders of Old Penn Virginia Stock as of September 12, 2016 were not issued New Penn Virginia Common Stock in respect of their Old Penn Virginia Stock and, therefore, will not have any tax basis in such New Penn Virginia Common Stock.

Form 8937, Line 18

Holders of Notes and Certain General Unsecured Claims

As described above, the Transaction may have resulted in a recognizable loss to some U.S. Holders of notes or certain general unsecured claims to the extent the tax basis in their notes or general unsecured claims exceeded the fair market value of the New Penn Virginia Common Stock received in exchange therefor. Holders of notes or certain general unsecured claims should consult their tax advisors to determine the tax consequences of the Transaction to them.

Old Penn Virginia Equity Holders

A U.S. Holder of Old Penn Virginia Stock may be eligible for a worthless securities deduction pursuant to Section 165 of the Tax Code. The rules governing the character, timing, and amount of bad debt or worthless securities deductions place considerable emphasis on the facts and circumstances of the U.S. Holder, the obligor, and the instrument with respect to which a deduction is claimed. U.S. Holders of Old Penn Virginia Stock, therefore, are urged to consult their tax advisors with respect to their ability to take such a deduction.
