Forward Air to Publish Updated Environmental, Social and Governance Report

GREENEVILLE, Tenn. – March 11, 2022 – Forward Air (NASDAQ: FWRD) (the “Company” or “Forward”) announced today its plans to publish an updated Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) report by the end of FY2022. The purpose of the report is to track progress against a growth strategy that involves organic infrastructure investments, such as its ongoing Less Than Truckload (LTL) network expansion, as well as acquisitions of complementary businesses.

“Forward’s commitment to ESG responsibilities has been a top priority for 2022, said Tom Schmitt, Chairman, President and CEO of Forward Air. “We want our team members, stakeholders and customers to understand that we take our ESG efforts seriously and as we continue to grow and scale as a company, we are committed to making a positive impact environmentally and socially,” he added.

Committed to accountability and transparency, this report is the second edition of Forward Air’s ESG report and highlights its commitments, progress and goals against ESG priorities. Forward’s first ESG report was published in March 2021, with the updated report incorporating data requirements identified by widely accepted sustainability frameworks (SASB, GRI, etc.) and measurable targets and goals.
