General Employment Enterprises, Inc. (NYSE-MKT: JOB) Engages American Capital Ventures for Investor Relations Services

NAPERVILLE, Ill., Jan. 27, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- General Employment Enterprises, Inc. (NYSE-MKT: JOB; "General Employment" or the "Company"), today announced that the Company has engaged American Capital Ventures ("ACV"), a boutique provider of comprehensive investor relations, financial marketing and capital advisory services to the micro- and small-cap community.

Andrew Norstrud, Chief Financial Officer of General Employment Enterprises, Inc., commented, "General Employment has spent the past year restructuring the Company and eliminating unnecessary expenditures, in an effort to stabilize the foundation of the Company. In 2014, we will move into phase two of our plan, concentrating on growth and profitability. General Employment Enterprises has significant experience and a long-standing history in the staffing sector. Having significantly restructured its offering and business model, the Company is now focused on creating a real presence in today's marketplace. We have partnered with ACV to communicate our vision and our plan for execution to investors and the investment community."

"General Employment has a rich and solid history in staffing America's accounting, IT and engineering firms that dates back 100 years – which is still largely unknown by the public – and a stellar executive team that we are confident can succeed in getting the company to where it should be as a leader in staffing. We are pleased to be working with General Employment and look forward to working with them in the time ahead to bring greater value to the company and its shareholders," commented, Howard Gostfrand, President of American Capital Ventures.
