General Employment Enterprises, Inc. Appoints Experienced Staffing Executive Gary Redwine to Advisory Committee

NAPERVILLE, Ill., May 16, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- General Employment Enterprises, Inc. (NYSE MKT: JOB) (the "Company" or "General Employment") is pleased to announce that the Company has appointed experienced alternate workforce executive, Gary Redwine, to its Advisory Committee.

Andrew Norstrud, Chief Executive Officer of General Employment, commented, "We are pleased to appoint Gary as the second member of our Advisory Committee. He brings over 35 years of executive experience in the consulting and alternate workforce industries to the Company, which will be instrumental as we navigate and execute on our growth plans. Gary will be an integral part of our decision making process and look forward to his contributions in the time ahead."

Currently, Gary Redwine is Partner, President, and CEO of RAMS, Inc., where he has full responsibility for all marketing, sales, and field operations for the RAMS Family of Companies. RAMS was founded in 1994 as an alternate workforce solution provider specializing in the skilled trades aspect of the commercial construction industry. Since its inception, RAMS has evolved into a Family of Companies that provides integrated human resources and training solutions to - and satisfies many of the unique needs of - the commercial construction and consulting industries.

RAMS is a licensed Electrical and General Contractor and the parent company. RAMS RPG provides full time and benefited employees to the commercial and industrial construction industries specializing in electrical, plumbing, mechanical, and structured data cabling. RPG provides alternate workforce solutions to other contractors enabling them to secure larger projects in diverse locations. RAMS TEC is its training division that is certified to conduct OSHA 10 & 30 along with FASA & BASA technical training and certification. RAMS JumpStart is a state approved (P.065), fully monitored pre-apprenticeship program that was developed in 2004 to promote the training of entry-level skilled trades personnel for electrical and plumbing. It is a 26 week program that has graduated over 800 new skilled trades personnel.

Prior to joining RAMS, he has held various executive positions, ending as Division President, for CDI Corporation a multi-billion dollar staffing, consulting, and engineering firm. He developed and managed the growth in IT, Aerospace, Petro-Chem, Telecommunications, Manufacturing, and Federal contracting verticals. Prior to CDI, Gary was a Division Manager for Manpower Services.

Gary has been an international guest speaker for the China External Trade and Development Council in Taiwan on "International Strategic Alliances – Lessons from the Japan/US Cross Border Industrial Experience". He also served on the CADAM Task Force for the Department of Defense on developing Computer-Aided Logistic Design Standards. He currently serves on the Board of Directors for TN – The Face Pain Association, a 501-(c)-(3-) non-profit international organization, as well as for the Florida Association of Electrical Contractors.
