General Employment Enterprises, Inc. Announces Name Change to GEE Group Inc.

NAPERVILLE, IL -- (Marketwired) -- 05/31/16 -- General Employment Enterprises, Inc. (NYSE MKT: JOB) ("the Company" or "General Employment"), a provider of professional staffing services and solutions, today announced that it intends to change its name to GEE Group Inc. subject to shareholder and regulatory approvals. The name change is anticipated to become effective after such approvals and upon the Company giving notice to the appropriate regulatory authorities and filing the amendments to its Articles of Incorporation. To that end, the Company filed on May 27, 2016 a preliminary proxy statement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") announcing that at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders for the Company to be held on July 12, 2016 in Washington, D.C., shareholders will be asked to approve the name change in addition to other proposals set forth in the proxy statement. The preliminary proxy statement is subject to review by the SEC. A definitive proxy statement will be made available to investors following completion of the SEC's review. Shareholders are strongly urged to read the preliminary proxy statement, definitive proxy statement and other relevant documents filed with the SEC when they become available. A free copy of the preliminary and definitive proxy statements and other filings may be obtained at the SEC's website at www.sec.gov.

The name change, if approved, will not affect the rights or interests of the Company's shareholders and outstanding stock certificates will not be affected by the name change and will not need to be exchanged. If a physical certificate represents a shareholder's shares of Common Stock currently, that certificate will continue to represent such shareholder's ownership of such shares. When physical certificates are presented in the ordinary course, new certificates bearing the new corporate name will be used. If the name change is approved, the Company will retain its ticker symbol of "JOB" and continue to trade on the NYSE MKT stock exchange. General Employment does not expect that the name change will cause significant expenses to the company.

Derek E. Dewan, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "Our new name is intended to more clearly reflect the Company's transformation from a predominantly commercial staffing company into a highly specialized staffing services, consulting and human resources solutions provider. The name change creates a platform to help better position our specialty operating brands and go to market strategy in the professional services division which includes our information technology, healthcare, engineering and finance/accounting specialties. This division now represents approximately 78% of total revenue and we are refining and consolidating our branding as appropriate while integrating key operating and financial functions of the companies we acquired." Dewan added, "We remain highly focused on enhancing shareholder value by investing in our existing business segments, continuing to acquire companies that increase or complement our service offerings and improving our financial performance."
