Flux Power Holdings, Inc. (FLUX) Provides Shareholder Information Following Initiation of Trading

Newly Public Company Targets $60B Global Market for Advanced Energy Storage

ESCONDIDO, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Flux Power[®] Holdings, Inc. (OTCQB: FLUX) today inaugurated the shareholder relations section of its web site as the company began trading as a publicly held company on the OTCQB exchange.

On June 15, 2012, Flux Power[®] Holdings, Inc., and its operating subsidiary Flux Power, Inc. ("Flux Power") announced the completion of the reverse acquisition of Flux Power Holdings, Inc. (formerly known as Lone Pine Holdings, Inc.), a Nevada corporation, and initiation of trading on the OTCQB exchange under the new symbol "FLUX".

Flux Power CEO Chris Anthony noted that the newly public company has access to substantially greater financial resources, which will help expand and enhance its already industry-leading service that it brings its customers. Flux Power provides lithium battery storage systems at a price significantly lower than legacy lead-acid battery systems and half that of other current lithium system technologies.

"Becoming a publicly traded company brings increased strength and reach to Flux Power -- and that enables us to serve our customers at an even higher level," said Chris Anthony, Flux Power CEO. "Flux Power is a market and technology leader in the rapidly expanding advanced energy storage market, which industry analysts estimate to total $60 billion annually. There is increasing demand for affordable energy storage for electric vehicles, grid storage and industrial/utility applications, and Flux Power is a recognized leader in this extraordinary worldwide market."

About Flux Power

Flux Power designs, develops, manufactures and sells cost efficient advanced energy storage systems. Incorporated in October 2009, Flux Power began shipping prototype products in the second quarter of 2010 while continuing to develop its intellectual property portfolio. Currently, Flux Power's product offerings include batteries in various sizes and forms, packaged modules, fully tested and validated advanced energy storage systems and various system accessories. These accessories include: stand-alone battery management, stackable chargers, programming software and display systems. Flux Power sells modular advanced energy storage products through distributors such as Dukes Garage, Electric Motor Sports, MCElectric, Jungle Motors and EV America. These customers benefit from Flux Power's proprietary system and cell technologies, which greatly extend cycle life and improve system performance. Flux Power's systems are also highly cost efficient proving less expensive than lead-acid technology over time in most applications.
