Sun Hydraulics First Quarter Sales Increase 20%, EPS up 39%

SARASOTA, FL -- (MARKET WIRE) -- 05/08/07 -- Sun Hydraulics Corporation (NASDAQ: SNHY) reported financial results for the first quarter of 2007 as follows:

(Dollars in millions except net income per share)

	March 31, 2007	April 1, 2006	Increase
Three Months Ended
Net Sales	$ 40.9	$ 34.2	20%
Net Income	$ 5.8	$ 4.2	38%
Net Income per share:
Basic	$ 0.53	$ 0.38	39%
Diluted	$ 0.53	$ 0.38	39%

"The brisk conditions we experienced across all geographic areas in the first quarter have continued through April," reported Allen Carlson, Sun's President and CEO. "While all business segments grew significantly, European and Asian sales were especially strong. We are confident that our international efforts are succeeding. Last month, we introduced several new electro-hydraulic products at the Hannover Fair in Germany, which were well received," affirmed Carlson.

"We were extremely pleased with our earnings on this level of sales especially after experiencing margin erosion over several quarters last year. Our gross profit improved this quarter and led to incremental bottom-line increases," stated Carlson.

"As we have stated throughout this capital goods cycle, we believe that Sun continues to gain market share as we outgrow the industry. Our growth, we believe, continues to be fueled by attending to basics: having the right products for the marketplace, providing detailed product information on demand, and delivering products when and where the customer wants," Carlson concluded.

Outlook

2007 second quarter sales are estimated to be approximately $41 million and earnings per share are estimated to be in the range of $0.52 to $0.54. This would represent an increase of approximately 11% in sales and 36% in earnings per share over last year.

FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

Certain oral statements made by management from time to time and certain statements contained herein that are not historical facts are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and, because such statements involve risks and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements, including those in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations are statements regarding the intent, belief or current expectations, estimates or projections of the Company, its Directors or its Officers about the Company and the industry in which it operates, and assumptions made by management, and include among other items, (i) the Company's strategies regarding growth, including its intention to develop new products; (ii) the Company's financing plans; (iii) trends affecting the Company's financial condition or results of operations; (iv) the Company's ability to continue to control costs and to meet its liquidity and other financing needs; (v) the declaration and payment of dividends; and (vi) the Company's ability to respond to changes in customer demand domestically and internationally, including as a result of standardization. Although the Company believes that its expectations are based on reasonable assumptions, it can give no assurance that the anticipated results will occur.

Important factors that could cause the actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements include, among other items, (i) the economic cyclicality of the capital goods industry in general and the hydraulic valve and manifold industry in particular, which directly affect customer orders, lead times and sales volume; (ii) conditions in the capital markets, including the interest rate environment and the availability of capital; (iii) changes in the competitive marketplace that could affect the Company's revenue and/or cost bases, such as increased competition, lack of qualified engineering, marketing, management or other personnel, and increased labor and raw materials costs; (iv) changes in technology or customer requirements, such as standardization of the cavity into which screw-in cartridge valves must fit, which could render the Company's products or technologies noncompetitive or obsolete; (v) new product introductions, product sales mix and the geographic mix of sales nationally and internationally; and (vi) changes relating to the Company's international sales, including changes in regulatory requirements or tariffs, trade or currency restrictions, fluctuations in exchange rates, and tax and collection issues. Further information relating to factors that could cause actual results to differ from those anticipated is included but not limited to information under the headings Item 1. "Business," Item 1A. "Risk Factors" and Item 7. "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations" in the Company's Form 10-K for the year ended December 30, 2006. The Company disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
