

Salem Communications Acquires Twitchy.com From Michelle Malkin

Twitter-Powered Site Joins With Townhall.com and HotAir.com to Form Social Media Driven Platform for Conservative News and Analysis

CAMARILLO, CA -- (Marketwired) -- 12/10/13 -- Salem Communications, a leading U.S. radio broadcaster, Internet content provider, and magazine and book publisher targeting audiences interested in Christian and conservative opinion content, announced today the acquisition of the ground-breaking Twitter curation site, Twitchy.com -- founded by best-selling author, blogger, and syndicated columnist Michelle Malkin.

Twitchy.com, combined with Townhall.com and HotAir.com creates the largest social media driven conservative platform on the Web with nearly 10 million unique readers and over 100 million pageviews each month.

In today's lightning fast news cycle, Twitter is where news breaks and the first reactions take place. Politicians, celebrities and people everywhere have something to say on Twitter. The Twitchy team monitors news and social media trends to report "who said what" in U.S. politics, global news, entertainment, media, and breaking news 24/7.

Jonathan Garthwaite, VP & General Manager of Townhall/HotAir, commenting on the acquisition said, "Since its inception almost two years ago, Twitchy has fast become a leader in online news reporting. They have harnessed the power of social media to create a real-time newswire for the modern, interconnected world. With the addition of Twitchy to our growing network of news and political websites, there is no better collection of conservative news and opinion on the web."
