Second Quarter 2016 Outlook

For the second quarter of 2016, we are projecting total revenue to increase 1% to 3% over second quarter 2015 total revenue of $67.3 million. This revenue guidance is impacted by two timing issues. First, Easter was in the first quarter of 2016 as compared to the second quarter of 2015. Our church products division experiences increased revenues during the Easter season. Additionally, our strongest book title last year, Ann Coulter's Adios America, was released during the second quarter. This year, we made a decision to release Dinesh D'Souza's Hillary's America in July to coincide with the Democratic National Committee's convention. We are also projecting operating expenses before gains or losses on the disposal of assets, depreciation, amortization and stock-based compensation expense to increase between 3% and 6% compared to the second quarter of 2015 operating expenses of $53.8 million.

(1) Regulation G

Station operating income, Digital media operating income, publishing operating income, EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and free cash flow are financial measures not prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). Station operating income is defined as net broadcast revenue minus broadcast operating expenses. Digital media operating income is defined as Digital media revenue minus Digital media operating expenses. Publishing operating income is defined as publishing revenue minus publishing operating expenses. EBITDA is defined as net income before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization and change in fair value of interest rate swaps. Adjusted EBITDA is defined as EBITDA before gains or losses on the sale or disposal of assets, changes in estimated fair value of contingent earn-out consideration, net miscellaneous income and expenses and non-cash compensation expense. Free cash flow is defined as Adjusted EBITDA less cash paid for capital expenditures, less cash paid for income taxes, less cash paid for interest. Salem has provided supplemental information as an attachment to this press release, reconciling these non-GAAP financial measures to the most directly comparable financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. The company believes these non-GAAP financial measures, when considered in conjunction with the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures, provide useful measures of the company's operating performance.

Station operating income, Digital media operating income, publishing operating income, EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and free cash flow are generally recognized by the broadcast and media industry as important measures of performance. These measures are used by investors and analysts who report on the industry to provide meaningful comparisons between entities. They are not a measure of liquidity or of performance in accordance with GAAP, and should be viewed as a supplement to and not a substitute for, or superior to, the company's results of operations presented on a GAAP basis such as operating income and net income. Salem's definitions of station operating income, Digital media operating income, publishing operating income, EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA, and free cash flow are not necessarily comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.

In the discussion of the company's results of operations, the company compares its broadcast operating results between periods on an as-reported basis, which includes the operating results of all radio stations and networks owned or operated at any time during either period and on a "same-station" basis. Same station operating results include those stations that it owns or operates in the same format on the first and last day of each quarter, as well as the corresponding quarter of the prior year. Same station results for a full calendar year are calculated as the sum of the same station-results for each of the four quarters of that year. The company uses same station results, a non-GAAP financial measure, both in presenting its results to stockholders and the investment community, and in its internal evaluations and management of the business. The company believes that same station operating results provide a meaningful comparison of period over period performance of its core broadcast operations as this measure excludes the impact of new stations, the impact of stations it no longer own or operate, and the impact of stations operating under a new programming format. The company's presentation of same station results are not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP. The company's definition of same station operating results is not necessarily comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.
