Huntsman Names New President Of Performance Products Division

THE WOODLANDS, Texas, June 4, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Huntsman Corporation (NYSE: HUN) today announced that Monte Edlund will succeed Stu Monteith as president of Huntsman's Performance Products division (HPP), effective July 1.

Most recently vice president for the Americas region in Huntsman's Advanced Materials division, Edlund joined Huntsman with the acquisition of the Rexene Corporation and has been a senior leader with the company since 1997, when he was appointed vice president-polymers. Prior to his role in Advanced Materials, Edlund served as vice president of global specialty textiles for Huntsman's Textile Effects division based in Singapore.

After more than 35 years' experience in the chemical industry, 21 of them with Huntsman, Monteith elected to retire as of August 31. He joined Huntsman in 1994 and served as the division's vice president for global markets and business development before being named Performance Products division president in 2011.

Huntsman President and CEO Peter Huntsman said: "Performance Products division has experienced tremendous growth under Stu Monteith's leadership, and we appreciate his many contributions to the corporation over these past 21 years. Having known and worked as closely with Monte Edlund as long as I have, I am confident that he will lead HPP to reach new heights."
