ECHO's mission is "to facilitate connection, collaboration, and action with multi-sectoral partners; mobilizing funding for scalable and inclusive projects that respond to the Cry of the Poor and the Cry of the Earth, as referenced in The Holy Father Pope Francis' Encyclical Letter - Laudato si: On Care for Our Common Home."

ECHO strives to access and direct funding to the curating, design and implementation of projects that enable systemic impacts. ECHO has formed a collaboration with faith groups and communities in underserved areas, including a unique partnership with the Symposium of Episcopal Conferences of Africa (SECAM), which is the leadership organization of the Catholic Bishops of Africa. Through this partnership, ECHO seeks to partner with impact investment-funded enterprises, such as Safe & Green Holdings, to support the attainment of human dignity on the African continent. The Company's collaboration with ECHO is intended to help implement the African Diocese's desire to augment the health facilities and associated health services of Africa, which are under the influence of the Dioceses. The Company's goal is to provide modular medical units to support the clinics and hospitals. The Company and ECHO have identified Ghana, the Democratic Republic of Congo and Nigeria as the countries for initial focus. Specifically, the entities will establish augmented medical facilities at 500 clinics and hospitals which are located within Catholic Dioceses. The facilities/services will be developed based on engagement with the various Dioceses and respective Bishops Conferences.

Paul Galvin, Chairperson and CEO of Safe & Green Holdings will serve as Chair of the Fund. Mr. Galvin will not be involved in the day-to-day fund investments or day-to-day operations, which will be overseen by Mr. Alan Dones, Ms. Prishani Satyapal and their team. The Company is in talks with ECHO to provide seed capital of $1 million USD for the Fund, through a potential loan to ECHO, to enable the roll-out of its relationship with SECAM. Subject to final definitive agreements, this capital will be provided to ECHO over a 13-month period and will be converted to equity in the Fund. The Company would also provide overall support for the project.

SECAM's President, His Eminence, Cardinal Ambongo commented, "The desire to further catalyze and accelerate collaboration between ECHO and SECAM, aligns and responds to the outcomes of the recent Vatican Synod on Synodality (October 2023) and the publication of the Apostolic Exhortation, Laudato Deum, by His Holiness Pope Francis. Both events have emphasized the urgent need for co-responsibility in addressing the pressing challenges of protecting our common home."

Paul Galvin stated, "I am inspired by ECHO's mission to bring impact investments at scale to communities in need. This aligns with the Company's business objectives, which includes rolling out fit-for-purpose modular medical units that are environmentally sound and designed with the end user in mind. I fully and enthusiastically accept this challenge, and it is done so humbly, knowing how much there is to be done to create meaningful and lasting economic development in communities that have been marginalized in their advancement."
