Cleveland-Cliffs Board Asks Shareholders to Vote Against Control Share Acquisition Proposal

CLEVELAND--(BUSINESS WIRE)--

Cleveland-Cliffs Inc (NYSE: CLF), which will be renamed Cliffs Natural Resources in the coming months, today announced that it is mailing the following letter to shareholders, asking them to vote AGAINST Harbinger Capital Partners' control share acquisition proposal:

September 8, 2008

Fellow Shareholders of Cleveland-Cliffs Inc:

You should be aware that Harbinger Capital Partners is trying to gain approval for what would effectively be a blocking stake in the future strategic direction of your company at the special meeting of shareholders scheduled for October 3, 2008. After careful consideration, including consultation with financial and legal advisors, your Board of Directors unanimously recommends that Cliffs shareholders vote AGAINST the authorization of the control share acquisition.

Your vote is extremely important. To ensure that no single investor can acquire effective control over your company's future strategic decisions, we urge you to vote AGAINST the Control Share Acquisition proposal TODAY by completing, signing, dating and returning the WHITE proxy card and accompanying certification in the postage-paid envelope provided.

It is NOT in the Best Interests of ALL Cliffs Shareholders for a Single Investor to Effectively Control Your Company's Strategic Direction

Since major strategic transactions, such as mergers and acquisitions or a sale of Cliffs, require the approval of shareholders representing two-thirds of Cliffs' outstanding common stock, an acquisition of one-third of Cliffs' common stock effectively provides the acquiring person with control over such strategic decisions. By giving a single investor effective control, shareholders may forgo other value enhancing opportunities that your Board may recommend in order to build shareholder value.

Your Board believes that all Cliffs shareholders should have the opportunity to have their voices heard in connection with the approval of important corporate transactions. Providing a single investor with effective "veto" power over the strategic direction of the company would reduce the impact of the votes of all other Cliffs shareholders. By voting AGAINST the control share acquisition proposal, Cliffs shareholders will continue to have the opportunity to meaningfully impact the outcome of future strategic transactions.

Voting AGAINST the Control Share Acquisition Proposal Preserves the Right of All

Shareholders to Have Their Vote Count on the Proposed Transaction with Alpha

As you may know, on July 15, 2008, Cliffs entered into an agreement to acquire Alpha Natural Resources in a cash and stock transaction. Your Board firmly believes that Cliffs and Alpha are an ideal combination that provides compelling value creation for both Cliffs and Alpha shareholders.

Since announcing the transaction, the Cliffs management team has been actively meeting with shareholders and analysts and we are pleased with the feedback we have received from the vast majority of our institutional shareholders. However, if a single investor were to acquire up to one-third of Cliffs outstanding stock, it would have the power to veto the Alpha merger, no matter what other shareholders may want.

Harbinger Is Offering Zero "Control" Premium

If authorization of the control share acquisition is obtained, Harbinger would have the ability to gain effective control without paying all shareholders a customary "control premium."

Protect Your Right to Have Meaningful Input on the Strategic Direction of Your Company

Your Board unanimously recommends that you vote AGAINST the Control Share Acquisition proposal. To ensure that you will have a say in the future strategic direction of your Company, vote AGAINST the proposal TODAY by completing, signing, dating and returning the WHITE proxy card and accompanying certification in the postage-paid envelope provided.

Thank you for your support.

On behalf of the Board of Directors,

/s/ Joseph A. Carrabba
Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer
Cleveland-Cliffs Inc
