BioCorRx Acquires Intellectual Property for Drug Delivery

Patent Application Covers Solid Implant Formulation for Drug Delivery

ANAHEIM, CA, Nov. 22, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- via NewMediaWire – BioCorRx Inc. (OTCQB: BICX) (the “Company”), a developer and provider of innovative treatment programs for substance abuse and related disorders, today announced that the Company has acquired a patent application from Calista Therapeutics. The current application, 17/465,748, was filed with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) covering solid implant formulation for drug delivery. This IP complements the Company’s current IP portfolio and may be used for improvements to current naltrexone formulations owned by the Company or licensed to third parties for use with other molecules where solid implant formulations are desired.

Lourdes Felix, CEO, CFO and Director of BioCorRx Inc., stated, “We are excited to add this new application to our portfolio which may improve certain aspects of solid implant drug delivery. We believe this IP adds value to our portfolio and we plan to explore its uses with our current formulations as well as with others in the implantable drug delivery space.”
