

XO Swap by Exodus Now Available in Bifrost Wallet

Expanding Access to the Flare Ecosystem and Songbird

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 12, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- XO Swap by Exodus has officially been integrated into Bifrost Wallet, marking a significant step forward for seamless cross-chain swaps. This collaboration brings XO Swap's advanced liquidity aggregation to Bifrost, enabling users to swap tokens effortlessly, including FLR (Flare) and SGB (Songbird)—two of the most prominent assets in the Flare ecosystem.

Bifrost has been a pioneer in supporting Songbird and Flare, making this integration a natural fit to enhance liquidity and accessibility for users. With XO Swap, Bifrost users can now swap FLR, SGB, and other key assets like BTC, ETH, and USDC, directly within their wallet without relying on centralized exchanges.

A Collaboration to Strengthen the Ecosystem

"Bringing XO Swap to Bifrost means more seamless, self-custodial trading options for users," said Kevin Wood, Director of Revenue Operations at Exodus. "Supporting Songbird and Flare through Bifrost helps expand accessibility for these key assets while giving users the best swap rates in the market."

As one of the first wallets to support Flare and Songbird, Bifrost has been a key player in empowering users with decentralized finance tools. This integration allows for frictionless asset swapping, strengthening Songbird's liquidity while enhancing Bifrost's DeFi capabilities.

"Bifrost Wallet has always prioritized interoperability and ease of use, and integrating XO Swap aligns perfectly with that mission," said Marco, Head of Marketing at Bifrost Wallet. "Our users now have access to one of the most robust swapping engines, unlocking new trading opportunities across multiple blockchains."
