Inpixon Achieves ISO/IEC 27001 Certification for its Location-Aware Enterprise Applications

Certification Further Validates Inpixon's Commitment to Highest Standards in Information Security for Large Enterprises

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 20, 2022 /PRNewswire/ -- Inpixon® (Nasdaq: INPX), the Indoor Intelligence® company, today announced that its application platform for mapping, locationing and actionable intelligence for smart campuses, omni-channel events and asset tracking has been ISO/IEC 27001:2013 certified. ISO/IEC 27001:2013 specifies the requirements for establishing, implementing, maintaining, and continually improving an information security management system within the context of an organization.

ISO (International Organization for Standardization) and IEC (International Electrotechnical Commission) form the specialized system for worldwide standardization. Organizations utilize this collection of standards to assist in managing the security of assets, including financial information, intellectual property, employee details or information entrusted by third parties. ISO/IEC 27001:2013 specifically relates to information technology security for any kind of digital information for any size organization.

"Achieving this third-party certification further demonstrates our commitment to providing customers and users with robust and validated information security policies and processes in alignment with industry best practices and standards," commented, David Westgate, executive vice president of IT operations at Inpixon. "Our mature, enterprise-grade applications are specifically designed to address sensitive information in a safe, reliable and secure manner."

Nadir Ali, chief executive officer of Inpixon, stated, "Securing this certification was an important milestone for our enterprise-focused product line. We believe this certification will help accelerate sales, as many customers seek ISO/IEC certification, and having it can simplify and speed our prospective customers' solution evaluation and contract approval processes."
