Alto Ingredients, Inc. Reports First Quarter 2023 Results

- Generated Sequential, Monthly Performance Improvements in 2023 -
- Resumed Operations at Magic Valley, Idaho Plant in April 2023 -
- Expects Positive Adjusted EBITDA in Q2 2023 -

PEKIN, Ill., May 08, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Alto Ingredients, Inc. (NASDAQ: ALTO), a leading producer and distributor of specialty alcohols and essential ingredients, reported its financial results for the quarter ended March 31, 2023.

"In 2023, we continue to make good progress executing our transformative capital initiatives to drive our EBITDA expansion goals, and we are also pleased that current market improvements are positively impacting our business," said Mike Kandris, CEO of Alto Ingredients. "Since December 2022, the market environment has improved sequentially each month. For the month of March, we generated positive bottom-line financial results. Based on current ethanol crush margins, we expect positive Adjusted EBITDA for the second quarter of 2023."

"We are confident in our ability to fund our near-term projects through a combination of working capital, our term loan facility and cash generated from our operating activities. We expect to achieve roughly $65 million of additional annualized EBITDA by the end of 2025, which we expect to increase to $125 million annualized EBITDA by the end of 2026. Overall, we believe these initiatives will significantly improve long-term shareholder value," concluded Kandris.

Alto Ingredients produces renewable products, specifically, specialty alcohols, essential ingredients and renewable fuel. Each of the company's initiatives to expand EBITDA advances sustainability. Recent project updates follow.

- New 190 proof and low-moisture 200 proof grain neutral spirits products are attracting new and existing beverage customers on a spot purchase basis. The company expects to secure additional volume commitments during the annual contracting period for 2024.
- Magic Valley's corn oil and high protein technology installation is complete, and the operating systems are undergoing alignment for optimal efficiency.
- Fully operational, the new silo at the Pekin campus is already reducing costs and improving plant reliability.
- Updates regarding several third-party, front-end engineering and design (FEED) studies include:
 - Engaged firm for primary yeast production.
 - Selected a firm for carbon capture and sequestration (CCS) to determine capture, compression, and energy requirements, and evaluating partners to provide turnkey transportation, sequestration, and monitoring services.

- Completed new natural gas pipeline study, started initial routing steps and advanced to definitive land agreements and the construction permit application process.
- Completed study for cogeneration, which is expected to reduce energy costs at the company's Pekin campus and support the increased energy requirements for both the primary yeast and CCS initiatives.

Financial Results for the Three Months Ended March 31, 2023 Compared to 2022

- Net sales were $313.9 million, compared to $308.1 million.
- Cost of goods sold was $317.1 million, compared to $303.3 million.
- Gross loss was $3.2 million, compared to gross profit of $4.8 million.
- Selling, general and administrative expenses were $7.9 million, compared to $7.6 million.
- Operating loss was $11.6 million, compared to $2.9 million.
- Net loss available to common stockholders was $13.5 million, or $0.18 per share, compared to $2.9 million, or $0.04 per share.
- Adjusted EBITDA was negative $4.5 million, compared to positive Adjusted EBITDA of $4.4 million.

Cash and cash equivalents were $21.2 million at March 31, 2023, compared to $36.5 million at December 31, 2022. Working capital was $117.8 million at March 31, 2023, compared to $121.1 million at December 31, 2022. The company's term loan facility has $40 million of remaining borrowing availability and an option to request up to an additional $25 million. These resources represent more than $180 million to support business operations and growth initiatives.

Use of Non-GAAP Measures

Management believes that certain financial measures not in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") are useful measures of operations. The company defines Adjusted EBITDA as unaudited consolidated net income (loss) before interest expense, interest income, provision for income taxes, asset impairments, loss on extinguishment of debt, acquisition-related expense, fair value adjustments, and depreciation and amortization expense. A table is provided at the end of this release that provides a reconciliation of Adjusted EBITDA to its most directly comparable GAAP measure, net income (loss). Management provides this non-GAAP measure so that investors will have the same financial information that management uses, which may assist investors in properly assessing the company's performance on a period-over-period basis. Adjusted EBITDA is not a measure of financial performance under GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net income (loss) or any other measure of performance under GAAP, or to cash flows from operating, investing or financing activities as an indicator of cash flows or as a measure of liquidity. Adjusted EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool and you should not consider this measure in isolation or as a substitute for analysis of the company's results as reported under GAAP.
