CareCloud will Highlight Comprehensive Solutions that Aim to Streamline Workflows, Alleviate Burnout, and Improve the Quality of Care at AAOE

SOMERSET, N.J., April 13, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- CareCloud, Inc. (Nasdaq: CCLD, CCLDP, CCLDO), a leader in healthcare technology solutions for medical practices and health systems nationwide, will exhibit at booth 623 during the American Alliance of Orthopaedic Executives Annual Conference, taking place April 20-23, 2023, in Orlando.

CareCloud's booth will feature a comprehensive suite of technology-enabled revenue cycle solutions that prioritize interoperability and can be customized to meet the unique needs of orthopaedic practices. This will help streamline clinical workflows, simplify administrative tasks, and empower practices to overcome challenges, including physician burnout.

Supported by advanced artificial intelligence technologies and data analytics, CareCloud's solutions allow orthopaedic practices to optimize their operations and improve patient outcomes. Patient experience management tools enhance patient engagement and satisfaction, improve communication, and better manage administrative tasks for an enhanced healthcare experience. CareCloud also offers telemedicine solutions that enable remote consultations and follow-up visits, improving patient access to care while reducing the need for in-person visits.

"Physician burnout is a critical issue in the orthopaedic industry that can have a significant impact on patient care and practice operations," said Brian Zelenka, CareCloud's vice president of marketing. "At CareCloud, we recognize the importance of supporting orthopaedic practices with the right healthcare technology solutions to alleviate administrative burdens and reduce the risk of physician burnout. By leveraging the power of technology, we can help orthopaedic practices improve patient outcomes, streamline the billing process and promote a more fulfilling work-life balance for their clinicians, ultimately leading to a more sustainable and successful practice."

Solutions that will be featured in CareCloud's booth include the following:

- CareCloud Central - An advanced medical practice management solution that streamlines the day-to-day tasks, enabling office managers to increase productivity, save time, and enhance patient care.
