Relmada Therapeutics, Inc. Provides Update on Nasdaq Up-Listing Process

NEW YORK, April 14, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- Relmada Therapeutics, Inc. (OTCQB: RLMD) a clinical-stage company developing novel therapies for the treatment of chronic pain, today provided investors with an update regarding the Company's qualification for up-listing to The Nasdaq Capital Market ("Nasdaq"). As previously disclosed, the Company submitted an initial listing application with Nasdaq in the second half of 2015. The Company now believes that it satisfies each of the exchange's applicable listing requirements, with the exception of the $4.00 bid price requirement. In accordance with the Nasdaq Listing Rules, the Company's stock price must close at or above $4.00 per share for 30 of the most recent 60 trading days in order for the Company to be eligible to list.

Sergio Traversa, the Company's Chief Executive Officer, stated, "The up-listing of RLMD to Nasdaq would be a significant milestone for the Company, providing investors with increased liquidity, and generating a higher level of visibility for the Company."

Although the Company believes it will ultimately list on Nasdaq, the Company can provide no assurance that Nasdaq will approve the Company's application for listing.
