"We are grateful for the recognition as our Association works to build a category of interoperable wireless home cinema products that give consumers the ability to choose the brands in which they invest. It is also mission critical to provide a universal connection that syncs audio between smart TVs and WiSA Certified™ speakers, and that's what we've accomplished with SoundSend," said WiSA President, Tony Ostrom. "The SoundSend connects with high-performing value products like Platin Audio's Monaco 5.1 system and Enclave Audio's Cinehome II, in addition to premium products from multiple brands including Harman Kardon, Savant, Bang and Olufsen, System Audio, and Barchard Audio."

The CES Innovation Awards program, owned and produced by the Consumer Technology Association \(CTA\)®, is an annual competition honoring outstanding design and engineering in consumer technology products across 28 product categories. An elite panel of industry expert judges, including members of the media, designers, engineers and more, reviewed submissions based on innovation, engineering and functionality, aesthetic and design.

The SoundSend HDMI audio transmitter works with any smart TV with ARC/eARC connections and transmits high-resolution audio automatically to WiSA Certified speakers for an immersive cinema experience at home. Transmitting high-quality 24-bit/96kHz audio on up to eight channels, SoundSend offers advanced tuning features including My Zone to create the perfect sweet spot, and decoding capabilities for Dolby Digital, Dolby Digital+, Dolby TrueHD and Dolby Atmos.

WiSA SoundSend is available for individual purchase for $179 to pair with smart TVs and WiSA Certified speakers. It is also sold in a bundle with the Tuned by THX™ Monaco 5.1

Immersive Wireless Home Audio System™ from Platin Audio for $899 through Amazon, Newegg, eBay and Target.
