XTI Aerospace to Participate in 2026 Wharton Aerospace Conference on Innovation and National Security

Company Executive to Join Industry Leaders Discussing Innovation, Manufacturing Capacity and the Future of National Security Technologies

ENGLEWOOD, Colo., March 6, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- XTI Aerospace, Inc. (Nasdaq: XTIA) ("XTI Aerospace," "XTI," or the "Company"), an aerospace technology company focused on building and scaling its Drone Nerds, LLC ("Drone Nerds") subsidiary, a drone platform serving enterprise and government customers, is participating in the 2026 Wharton Aerospace Conference being held today in Philadelphia. The event is a premier gathering of leaders from the aerospace, defense, investment, and government communities focused on the future of aerospace innovation and national security.

Steve Zohrabian, Executive Vice President of XTI Aircraft will participate in a panel titled "Disruptive Capacity: Bringing Manufacturing and Innovation to National Security." The panel will explore how emerging aerospace companies, mid-tier manufacturers, and new entrants intend to meet growing demand from defense and national security customers for faster innovation cycles and scalable manufacturing capabilities.

"The Wharton Aerospace Conference brings together many of the most thoughtful leaders across the aerospace and defense ecosystem," said Scott Pomeroy, Chief Executive Officer of XTI Aerospace. "We are proud to participate in the important conversations shaping the future of aerospace technology, national security and industrial innovation."

The Company's participation in the conference follows its recent reaffirmation of support for the United States Armed Forces and allied defense organizations and reflects XTI's commitment to contributing to the ongoing dialogue around innovation, resilience and technological leadership in aerospace as part of its mission to develop and deploy advanced unmanned systems and aerospace technologies that support enterprise, government, and allied missions.

"XTI is focused on helping shape the future of the aerospace industry," said Zohrabian. "As demand grows for rapidly deployable and scalable aerospace capabilities, companies that can combine advanced technology development with agile manufacturing will play an increasingly important role in supporting the defense capabilities of the United States and its allies."
