LM Funding America Inc. Announces Silcox Replaces Traber on Board of Directors

TAMPA, FL / ACCESSWIRE / January 29, 2021 / LM Funding America, Inc. (NASDAQ: LMFA) ("LM Funding" or "LMFA"), a technology-based specialty finance company, today announced the resignation of Martin Traber from the Board of Directors and the election of Frank Silcox to the Board of Directors to complete Mr. Traber's current term, which expires at the 2022 Annual Meeting of Shareholders. Mr. Traber left the board of LMFA in order to become a director of LMF Acquisition Opportunities, Inc., ("LMAO") (NASDAQ:LMAO), a specialty acquisition company sponsored by a subsidiary of LMFA. Mr. Silcox returns as an independent director of LMFA after originally founding the Company and having served as the manager of LMFA's predecessor and wholly-owned subsidiary, LM Funding, LLC, from inception in January 2008 until December 31, 2014.

On January 28, 2020, LMAO closed its initial public offering. "We believe LMFA is best served by Mr. Traber's active participation on the board of LMAO, where we hope his contacts and experience will contribute to a successful merger transaction for our sponsored SPAC", said Bruce M. Rodgers, chief executive officer of LMFA and LMAO.

Mr. Silcox and Mr. Rodgers are credited with conceiving and developing LM Funding's business model and growing the business together prior to its IPO. "We started LM Funding with very little capital which constrained our growth." Said, Mr. Silcox. "I am excited to rejoin the company as a director to help re-envision the business model with the approximately $20 million in cash the LM Funding currently has on hand."

Mr. Silcox will also replace Mr. Traber as an independent director on the LMFA Board's compensation and nominating committees.
