The ability to manage these exchanges of information efficiently and securely through digital transformation has become the leading area of focus for food & beverage companies and a critical component of building a sustained competitive advantage in the market."

The Boardwalk Blockchain Digital Ledger Platform is designed and ideally suited for multi-party enterprise applications enabling trusted, authenticated and secure transactions managed on a private permissioned digital ledger. What is unique about the Boardwalktech digital ledger technology is that it captures the provenance of both on and off chain data exchanges between multiple parties.
