Vuzix Receives Initial Volume Smart Glasses Order from Augmex

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Dec. 18, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Vuzix® Corporation (NASDAQ: VUZI), ("Vuzix" or, the "Company"), a leading supplier of smart glasses and Augmented Reality (AR) technology and products, today announced that it has entered into an agreement with Augmex, a one-stop-shop solutions provider for increasing productivity with smart glasses. Vuzix has received and shipped against an initial six-figure order from Augmex, who will bundle their software with Vuzix products as a solution to its supply chain customers across Europe.

Augmex solutions target the warehouse and logistics, installation and service, and healthcare and hospital market verticals. Their two main solutions offerings consist of:

- AUGPICK revolutionizes warehouse performance, enhancing efficiency through visual data and full hands-free operation.
- AUGASSIST, a remote support solution with smart glasses, complete with live annotations, artificial intelligence (AI) and augmented reality (AR), is revolutionizing the way people can stay connected and get expertise on any location without traveling.

"This partnership brings together our solutions-based approach with Vuzix' highly capable hardware to deliver valuable wearables solutions," said Lars Heemsker, Founder and CEO of Augmex. "We are thrilled to partner with them and provide their family of smart glasses to our customers and partners across the European marketplace."

"We are excited to be working with Augmex, an innovative solutions provider that combines industry-leading hardware and software to provide their customers with a single source for their enterprise solution needs," said Paul Travers, President and CEO of Vuzix. "This partnership will facilitate increased market penetration for customers ready to embrace AI and AR-based solutions to increase their productivity and reduce their carbon footprint among other things."
