Hiranandani joins Paychex with 20 years of technology leadership experience. Most recently, he served as senior vice president and chief technology officer of the former PAETEC Holding Corp., a

Fortune 1000 telecommunications company acquired earlier this month by Windstream Corp. (NASDAQ:WIN), a leading national provider of advanced network communications.

"Sanjay joins Paychex at a time when our company is delivering even greater technology-based services for our clients. The recent release of our new Paychex Mobile Online app for the iPad, an expansion of our Software as a Service offerings, is a great example of our commitment to the next generation of Paychex," said Martin Mucci, Paychex president and chief executive officer. "I believe Sanjay's knowledge and experience will leverage – and enhance – the work our teams are already doing."

During his 12-year tenure with PAETEC, Hiranandani was the architect of the company's infrastructure, including data services. Most recently, he designed the expansion of PAETEC's nationwide data center footprint and launch of its cloud services. Prior to joining PAETEC, Hiranandani was vice president of advanced technologies for TeleBeam Inc. Before that, he was lead network architect for Cornell University.

Hiranandani holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in science and technology studies from Cornell. He begins his new role at Paychex today, December 19, 2011.
