Apollo Provides €900 Million Refinancing for Pan-European Logistics and Industrial Portfolio Owned by Cerberus and Arrow Capital Partners

Bespoke, senior secured solution to refinance institutional-quality portfolio and consolidate lender base

NEW YORK, Jan. 29, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Apollo (NYSE: APO) today announced that Apollo-managed funds have completed an approximately €900 million senior secured financing of a pan-European logistics and industrial portfolio owned by a joint venture between an affiliate of Cerberus Capital Management (“Cerberus”), a global alternative investment manager, and Arrow Capital Partners (“Arrow”), a specialist investor, credit provider, developer and manager of real estate in Europe and Asia-Pacific .

The investment, split among three separate senior loan facilities, will primarily refinance existing debt of the Strategic Industrial Real Estate (“SIRE”) platform, a joint venture between Cerberus and Arrow. The portfolio comprises 92 institutional-quality assets totaling more than one million square meters of urban and mid-box logistics and industrial space. The portfolio has a diversified tenancy base anchored by long-term, investment grade occupants and is located across key, high-demand European distribution corridors in the UK, Germany, the Netherlands, Spain, Ireland, and Poland.

Ben Eppley, Partner and Head of Real Estate Credit, Europe at Apollo, said, “This bespoke solution refinances a diversified, high-quality portfolio of strategically located logistics and industrial assets, which benefit from resilient demand and supply dynamics. We continue to see strong interest from sponsors seeking holistic, single lender solutions where we can transact with certainty and scale.”

Julio Dominguez, Head of European Financings at Cerberus, commented, “Apollo’s investment reflects the strong market recognition of the value we have built across our SIRE platform. With a high-quality portfolio and robust market fundamentals, this refinancing supports our commitment to advancing our strategy across Europe.”

Apollo’s Real Estate Credit business continues to be one of the most active non-bank lenders across Europe. Other recent investments include senior financing for a UK portfolio of purpose-built student accommodation assets as well as senior financing for Shadowbox Studios’ Shinfield Studios, a new major film and TV production hub in the UK.
