Capital City Investments Adds Financial Advisor Matt Dyal to Help North Florida Families Plan for Their Financial Futures

STARKE, Fla., July 1, 2026 — Capital City Investments, a division of Capital City Wealth, announces Matt Dyal has joined its team of financial advisors to help individuals and families across North Florida navigate retirement planning, investing and long-term financial decisions with confidence.

Based in Starke, Dyal works closely with clients to develop personalized financial strategies built around their goals, values and future priorities. Drawing on 11 years of experience serving Capital City Bank clients, he is known for his relationship-focused approach and commitment to helping individuals make thoughtful, informed financial decisions that support their goals.

Clients want a financial advisor who will listen, understand their goals and help guide them through important financial decisions,” said Patricia Evans, Capital City Bank president of Bradford and Clay counties. “Matt’s solid, disciplined approach to financial planning and long-standing relationships throughout the communities he serves make him well-positioned to help families plan for the future with confidence.

Dyal joined Capital City Bank in 2015 and spent nearly a decade serving clients in a variety of retail banking roles before transitioning to Capital City Investments as a registered administrative associate in 2024. In that capacity he supported financial advisors throughout the region, gaining expertise in retirement planning, investment strategies and other long-term financial planning services and developing a deep understanding of individualized financial planning needs. As a financial advisor, Dyal focuses on understanding each client’s goals and drawing on his years of experience to provide personalized financial guidance that helps them plan for the future with confidence.

He serves clients throughout Starke, Keystone Heights, Palatka, Hastings, Spring Hill and surrounding North Florida communities.

Active in the communities he serves, Dyal currently serves as treasurer of the Bradford County Education Foundation and is a member and former president of the Rotary Club of Starke. He previously volunteered as a mentor with Bradford Community for Schools.

Dyal earned an Associate of Arts degree from Santa Fe College and a Bachelor of Arts degree from Baptist University of Florida. Outside of work, he enjoys golf, pickleball, coffee and spending time with his wife and their two children.
